The following matters were the subjects of recent instructions to the Santiago cells of the Communist Party of Chile (PCCCh):

1. The cells have been told to launch an intense propaganda campaign against any important United States citizens visiting Santiago. The Party members are to demonstrate in front of the visitors' hotels, and are to place posters and inscriptions on available wall space. Anti-American propaganda in the Communist newspaper Democracia is also to be intensified. It is noted that these instructions come prior to the scheduled visits of various United States congressional delegations to Chile.
2. The Santiago cells have also been instructed to form neighborhood committees to study all problems in their own particular sectors of the city. A forthcoming congress of the Comité Nacional de la Vivienda* will reportedly be based on the findings of these committees.
3. The PCCh, on the basis of a recent poll conducted among its Santiago members, has also criticized the low percentage of Party members who read Democracia. The cells are informed that every issue contains information of vital interest to all Communists, and that the Party has made great sacrifices not only to sustain Democracia but to expand it. Instructions have therefore been issued for the formation of "cell libraries", which would include copies of Democracia and which would be accessible to the PCCh members.
4. The cell members are also instructed to turn over to the cultural secretary of their cell a list of all reading material they have which might be of interest to other cell members. The cultural secretary will be responsible for the distribution and care of this literature.
